

RAVENS IN OUR COMMUNITY

ACT VOLUNTEER ACTIVITIES

All season long, members of the Ravens All Community Team (ACT) will be giving back to fans in the Baltimore community. The All Community Team is a partnership among the Ravens organization, players and members of the corporate community who provide financial and volunteer support for many Ravens' service projects. Through a wide variety of activities and events, the ACT makes a positive impact in Maryland while strengthening ties between the Ravens, its partners and the community. Each month, the group will participate in various projects to benefit local charitable organizations and individuals in need. On Sept. 27, the ACT volunteered at the Ronald McDonald House in Baltimore, where they helped to clean and organize the facility for visiting families.

LONDON PLAY 60 FESTIVAL

HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH
