

How to Claim Tickets That Were Sent To You

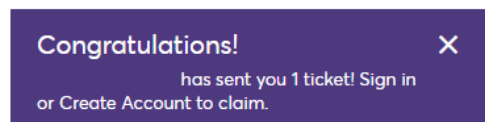

When someone sends tickets to you electronically, you will either receive an email from Ticketmaster, or a link directly from your friend to claim the tickets.

Sample Email from Ticketmaster:	Sample link sent from your friend:
 The email header shows the Ticketmaster Verified logo. Below is a photo of blue stadium seats. A red banner reads "THIS EMAIL IS NOT YOUR TICKET". The body text says "The tickets are almost yours. Click Accept Tickets to seal the deal." Below this is a blue "Accept Tickets" button and a deadline: "Accept by Sun, Nov 25, 2018 1:00 PM".	 The screenshot shows a notification: "You've been sent 1 ticket to Ravens vs. Buccaneers" with an "Inbox x" tag. The date is "Thu, Jul 26, 12:17 PM (1 day ago)". A link is provided: https://oss.ticketmaster.com/s/94eae2be. Below the link are "Reply" and "Forward" buttons. A note states: "(Note: this link can be sent via email, text, or other messaging options)".

Next, you will be sent to log in to your Ravens account. You can complete this step on your computer or you can use the browser on your smart phone to claim the tickets.

Enter your email and password and click log in. If you do not have an account, you will be prompted to create a new account.

If you need to retrieve your log in information, please call the ticket office at 410-261-RAVE (7283).

AccountManager
by ticketmaster

Sign In

Email Address *
Please enter your email address

Password *
Please enter password

Remember Me Forgot Password?

Don't have an Account? Click Here

How to Claim Tickets That Were Sent To You

After logging in, you will see a pop up to claim the tickets. You will see the game information, section, row and seat. The ticket must be claimed prior to kickoff. Click the blue claim button.

If you are receiving tickets for multiple games, you must click the link for each game individually.

After claiming the tickets, you will use the Ravens App to access your mobile tickets!